Please read all the instructions before you begin the procedure. Confirm you have all of the necessary tools and materials. Allow about ½ hour to complete the replacement. If you have any questions please call us toll free at 1-800-866-4344, Monday –Saturday, 9:00 – 5:00, ET.

Tools Needed:

1/2" socket
1/2" socket wrench

Recommended:

safety glasses
work gloves
shop-vac

Materials:

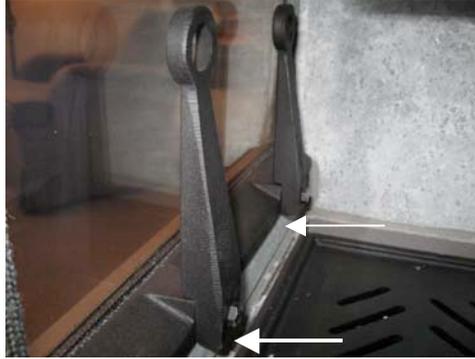

W-269 Retainer
W-270 Andiron (2)
W-2577 5/16-18 x 2 1/2" bolt (2)
Anti-Seize Compound

Make sure the stove is cool.

1. The andiron assembly is a three-piece retainer system with (2) andirons that will separate from the retainer. If you are only replacing the andiron(s), not the retainer, it's easier to loosen and remove the bolts one at a time, so the retainer stays in place and the holes remain lined up.

2. Spray a lubricant or penetrating oil on both of the bolts that attach the glass andiron(s) to the backside of the front casting (WD-40, Break-Free CLP, Kroil, PB Blaster,etc). Let it work on the bolts for up to 24 hours. Re-apply as necessary. Direct the spray under the retainer where the bolt passes through to the front frame

3. Using a 1/2" wrench, or socket and ratchet, carefully loosen the bolt at the base of each andiron and remove them.

4. Reinstall the glass retainer and andirons. Install one andiron at a time and finger-tighten the bolt until they will stand in position (the bolts will either come pre-treated with anti-seize compound or there will be a small packet of it in which to dip the threads). Tighten the bolts down evenly by alternating from one bolt to the other until they are completely tightened. You may want to adjust the position of the glass retainer to align it with the gasket along the bottom of the glass just before tightening it completely.
5. Enjoy your stove.
